MEDICAL.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM.

OF LYNN, MASS.

DISCOVERER OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

The Positive Cure

For all Female Complaints.

This preparation, as its name signifies, consists of Vegetable Properties that are harmless to the most delicate invalid. Upon one trial the merits of this Compound will be recognized, as relief is immediate; and when it is continued, it cures all cases of a kind, and a permanent cure is effected, as thousands will testify. On account of its proven merits, it is today recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country.

It will cure entire the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, irregular and painful Menstruation, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, all diseases of the female system, and all consequent weakness, and is especially adapted to the young of the sex, as it cures all cases of the same, and in its early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous tumors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It has been proved to be the greatest and best remedy that has ever been discovered. It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new blood and new life. It cures all cases of the same, and in its early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous tumors there is checked very speedily by its use.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at 225 William St., New York, Mass. Price 50c. Six bottles for $2.50, sent by mail in the form of pills, per box, for either sex. Mrs. PINKHAM freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this paper.

CLEANINGS.

In West Tennessee, it is said, one-third of the farms are incumbered with mortgages.

A big cast-iron dog in a Sacramento store frightened away three armed burglars.

A member of the Chinese legation at Washington is 29 years of age, and boasts that he is a grandfather.

Ethelred swells in New York and Boston have adopted the single eyeglass, after the fashion of London snobs.

Ex-Congressman John T. Wilson has presented Adams county, O., with $30,000 for the foundation of a Children's Home.

Judge James R. Brown, of the Blue Ridge circuit, Georgia, recently sentenced a negro to the penitentiary for natural life and thirty months over.

An Indian chief in Washington went to see the Ideal Opera Company. When M. W. Whitney gave a particularly low note the chief said: "Uh, him heap dug out."

A man who left Syracuse thirty-one years ago without a word to anybody returned last month and tried to make folks think he'd only been fishing and was determined to stay until he got a bite.

Co-operative stores are a success in Philadelphia. The stockholders eat up the goods, the president runs away with the loose change, and the landlord loses the rent for six months.

The latest style of Paris suicide is shooting yourself while riding in a hack. It is a good idea. You get a ride for nothing. Not even a hackman would have checked enough to dun a corpse.

New York streets have 23,621 public lights of an evening, and the city is electric. The consumption of gas by the street lights last year was 17,169,000 cubic feet.

A young couple were baptized together at Trousdale, Tenn., and immediately afterward were married, by the same clergyman.

M. Tran-Uy-en-Hau is a Chinese lawyer now practicing in Paris. He is intelligent and speaks French accurately. He wears his eye rolled on the top of his head.

General Skobelev, the Russian warrior, has received forty-three challenges from Germany to fight duels in consequence of anti-German remarks in his speeches.

Two American ladies, now at the court of Queen Margherita of Italy, are spoken of as possessing jewels eclipsing in brilliancy the famous diamonds of the Roman princesses.

There is a bachelor in Ipswich, Mass., eighty-five years of age, who has worn the same hat for over sixty years. He has never used anything but peat for fires and he burns tallow dips for light.

Gen. Sheridan has fought sixty-four battles, and he never knew what fear was until he stood on his front door steps, and heard the bell ring two, and realized that he had forgotten his excuse.

A young man writes to the Akron (Ohio) News to know how he can live on $2.00 per week, and is seriously advised by the editor of that paper to get married and board with his father-in-law.

The New York Hotel Mail finds fault with the lady at a hotel table who, at the eleventh hour of decision, fringes her plate with various kinds of food, and when she has poured gravy over everything, gets her chin on a level with it and shoves it in.

A Montreal tobaccoist put some cigars on the market that he had given the name of "I like." A neighbor followed with the "You like" brand, and the "I like" man has sued his "You like" rival for infringement of his trademark.

The novel spectacle of a colored jury was presented at the recent term of court in Clark county, Virginia, in the trial of a colored man named Morris for stealing a horse. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, and fixed his term of imprisonment in the penitentiary at four years.

Sam Brunell, of Missoula, Montana, was arrested recently for selling liquor to a squaw. His counsel defended him upon the ground that he was insane, and the jury acquitted him. He was immediately re-arrested on a charge of insanity and convicted and sent to the penitentiary. He remarked that he would just as soon go to the penitentiary as the insane asylum.

A license is required for marriage in Illinois. A young man's wedding-day drew near, and he started for Galena, the nearest licensing place, was in such a condition that a horse could not be used on it. The distance was seventeen miles. He started for the license on the morning of the appointed day. It was a hard journey, and he returned with a very red face, and almost exhausted, and barefoot, his boots having been mired and abandoned, but he brought the license, and the ceremony was performed in the evening.

Land at Winnipeg, the capital of Manitoba, has bounded in price from $50 per acre, last fall, to $1,000 per acre now. The town is full of people. The hotels are so crowded that guests are glad to get a chance to sleep on the hall floor. Meals are served from daylight till late at night. It often happens that when men are injured by the jam in trying to obtain a place at the tables. There is an active demand for all kinds of labor, provisions and building materials.

A New York beggar is said to earn from $5.00 to $10.00 a day by a trick which seldom fails to excite the sympathy of Broadway pedestrians. His way of attracting attention is to dart at a dirty piece of food lying on the sidewalk, thrust the morsel into his mouth, and crunch it between his teeth like a hungry hound. But the effect of the performance is somewhat lessened on the minds of those who know that he carries crusts of bread and apple cores in his pockets, ready to drop and masticate at the first favorable opportunity.

The New York Herald describes Dion Boucicault as a short, stout, bald, beardless man, save for a minute mustache. His Shakespearean head is perfectly bald, and although over 60 he would pass for 50 years of age. In clerical attire he would pass for a Roman priest. He dresses simply, as he lives, wearing a silk hat, or a Derby, as chance directs; a short, bottle-tail coat, or a long ulster, as the wind decides; never profanes his costume with ornaments, and has no time for nonsense save in the way of business.

The standard of intelligence among trout would seem to be lessening, if the latest inventions for their beguilement are as successful as represented. Artificial worms are sold with all the speed of wriggle, and none of the cold clamminess so obnoxious to lady fishers, and one of the members of the English Fish Commission announces that he has several times brought a trout to the surface with bits of paper. In the Highlands last year a boy caught a number with leather-bells strung on a baithook, thus proving conclusively the extraordinary progress of estheticism. There was prophesy in the old line, "die of a rose in aromatic pain," and whaling will undoubtedly in time be accomplished with lilies and sharks, and swishish rise to sunflowers and daisies.

The extraordinary illegibility of Dean Stanley's handwriting is well known to all his friends, and has been supposed to arise simply from haste and carelessness.

AMERICAN TASTE IN DRESS.

Kate Field in discussing this subject in Our Continent, says:

There certainly are no women in the world who think so much about dress or devote so much time to it as Americans. The result, however, is hardly commensurate with the expenditure of time and money. To think about dress, does not necessarily involve what is seriously called taste. When monkeys act like men we do not accuse them of thought. We attribute to them a wonderful power of imitation. In dress we are nothing but monkeys. We have not yet acquired sufficient taste to know when to make our own fashions, so we wait for the modistes of Paris to tell us what they please, and then adopt their ideas regardless of consequences. France is the most artistic nation in Europe, and she should take time to think of her dress. What is suitable for all, and it is well known that costumes prepared for the American market are "lousier" in style than those of the most fashionable Parisian. American patrons are sought because they are willing to pay extravagant prices, but their judgment, as a rule, does not command respect. One day in Paris I went to the most voluminous of the sort, but I'm disgusted with them. They were fools to act like a flock of sheep; that he as an artist always consulted individual physique, but he found the greatest difficulty in making his clients wear what he had made for them. "Because I invented a beautiful costume for a young and graceful woman, should it be worn by a fat dowager? But the dowager will have it, spite of all entreaty. Now, there are no old women and very few middle-aged ones. As for fat women, they don't exist. All want to wear tight-fitting white gowns, and beauties they look! If there be a color that displays curves, it is white. It is white, but goodness gracious! there's no use talking—I have given it up. To live in peace I must let obstinate women have their own way. You accuse me of a desire to receive credit for nothing of the sort, but I'm disgusted with them. They were fools to act like a flock of sheep; that he as an artist always consulted individual physique, but he found the greatest difficulty in making his clients wear what he had made for them. "Because I invented a beautiful costume for a young and graceful woman, should it be worn by a fat dowager? But the dowager will have it, spite of all entreaty. Now, there are no old women and very few middle-aged ones. As for fat women, they don't exist. All want to wear tight-fitting white gowns, and beauties they look! If there be a color that displays curves, it is white. It is white, but goodness gracious! there's no use talking—I have given it up. To live in peace I must let obstinate women have their own way. You accuse me of a desire to receive credit for nothing of the sort, but I'm disgusted with them.
